Jude Parker is some sort of an artist. The New York Republicans are the picture of despair and Parker is the cause of it.

For the year 1903 the State of North Carolina spent for the education of negro children $252,820.54. It will be interesting to know what proportion of the school tax is paid by the colored folks.

NAME OF DEMOCRACY

Hon. F. M. Simmons Here Last Night and Spoke in the Court House.

CONFERENCE OF LEADERS.

Prominent East Carolina Democrats Here to Talk With Their State Chairman —Speech Terrible Arraignment of Republicanism.

The appointment of Hon. F. M. Simmons to speak here last night was the signal for the gathering of Democratic leaders from several Eastern Carolina counties, among those in the city for conference with their State chairman being Hon. Chas. R. Thomas, who has a brief respite from some arduous campaigning in his district and who is on his way home to Newbern to rest a few days; Hon. J. A. Brown, of Columbus; Henry A. Grady Esq., of Clinton, Democratic nominee for the State Senate from the 15th district, composed of the counties of Sampson, Harnett and Johnson; E. M. Koonce Esq., nominee for the Legislature from Onslow county; State Senator Geo. H. Bellamy, of Brunswick, and several others, all of whom brought good report of their stewardship in their respective counties. Mr. Simmons arrived last evening and was called upon at his hotel by a number of prominent Wilmington Democrats and personal friends who showed him distinguished consideration. He goes to Lumberton to-day for a speech to the Democrats of Robeson and will then move further West on a similar mission.

Senator Simmons was presented at the Court House last night by Mr. G. J. Boney, Democratic nominee for the Legislature from New Hanover, who referred in pleasing terms to the distinguished visitor's peerless leadership of the party in the State during the past two campaigns and his distinguished record in the national halls of legislation more recently. Mr. Simmons acknowledged very gracefully the compliment by Mr. Boney and was greeted with enthusiastic applause. He said he would indulge in no preliminaries and immediately suited his actions to his words, plunging into a red-hot discussion of the personality and political predilections of the "esteemed" Mr. Roosevelt. The contrast between the leaders of the two great parties in this campaign was too great to admit of comparison, and while he did not wish to add humiliation to the sting of defeat and while he considered it neither good morals nor good religion to speak of the "dead," he thought the people should be informed of the manner of man who is opposing the great and good man whom the Democrats have named. They were radically different types of men and represented radically different ideas of government. The Democracy had stood from time immemorial for the constitution and law. Its shibboleth since the days of Jefferson had been freedom from all entangling foreign alliances and its victories had been those of peace rather than war. The Republican party has relied upon force, not upon law; upon might, not upon right. The calm jurist might be pictured standing loftily with the constitution in his hand and the sword under his arm, as a representative of the Democracy in this fight, while on the other hand for the Republicans might be portrayed the blustering hero of San Juan Hill with the constitution under his feet and a two-edged sword grasped in each hand.

The speaker next went into a masterly discussion of the elements of our population, describing each and coming down to the negro with whom Mr. Roosevelt was popular and who had ever since the shackles of slavery had dropped from him, dreamed of social equality and political ascendency. To this child-like mind the type of Roosevelt appealed as the Moses to lead them to a realization of their hopes; a star in the east to guide them to their coveted position. Mr. Simmons then quoted liberally and literally from the recent literary efforts of Mr. Roosevelt in which the farmer and farm laborer were said to be in many respects no better than the outcast cowboy of the Western frontier. In his letter of acceptance he declared for a system of laws, which before his elevation to the presidency he said were vicious in principle and especially harmful to the agricultural classes. Mr. Roosevelt stands for a law which compels the farmer to sell his produce at the world's competitive prices and forces him to buy at tariff fostered, trust, non-competitive prices. That he said was the farmer's case against Mr. Roosevelt.

Mr. Simmons said the Republican candidate ought not to be popular with the mechanic and town laborer because he said in one of his literary writings that they are not only not as good as the cowboys of the West but are so much worse that they are not worthy to be mentioned in the same breath. Roosevelt ought not to be popular with the God-fearing and peace loving Quakers, many of whom live in North Carolina, because he expressed in some of his writings a grave doubt if any one of them could ever make a good citizen, not because he was not thrifty, honest, law-abiding, enterprising, but because he loved peace and abhorred war. To the President's mind there were two unpardonable sins: To live in the South without being a "nigger" and to walk on two legs and not carry a pistol in each hip-pocket and a sword in two hands. The President ought not to be popular with the Populists because in his "American Ideals" he had said in his wholesale abuse of everybody and everything else that the Populist was a little lower than all the rest; that the Populist regarded refinement as immoral and looked with suspicion upon people who bathed freely. But they do say, put in Mr. Simmons, that our own "Sweet Mary Ann" is out for Roosevelt body and soul and is going about in the land attempting to reorganize the Populists under the Republican standard, putting them in for the decoy ticket headed by our other "noble" friend, Tom Watson. He compared the two in a Biblical simile to Judas Iscariot, who received money and was applauded for betraying his Lord and Master into the hands of the enemy. The success of Butler and Watson's efforts along this line will depend upon the number of cozy little postoffices and sowpaw places that they are permitted to hand around among the faithful—a mighty tempting proposition to the average Populist, like unto a chicken coop to a hungry negro.

Mr. Simmons scathingly denounced Roosevelt for having ostentatiously dined a negro in the White House and for having taken the same negro for his chief adviser about Southern affairs, thus breaking down the barrier and violating every tradition of the South. He now threatens to reduce our constitutional representation in Congress for the elimination of the ignorant negro in politics. The speaker next took up Republican extravagance in national affairs and showed where this State was taxed $10 for the support of the Federal government for every one raised for State purposes. In the light of those figures it came with poor grace from the Republicans to charge us with extravagance in our home affairs. The only reply which they make is to wag their heads and shout "Prosperitee!" "Prosperitee!" Mr. Simmons next excoriated the Republican party for refusing to allow the Democrats to raise the lid from the pot of corruption unearthed in the Departments at Washington.

Mr. Simmons discussed the tariff with unusual ability. Any synopsis of his reasoning without the full text of his remarks would be unjust. He declared for a revision of the tariff schedule and charged the Republicans with using that dangerous form of taxation to favor their political allies and campaign contributions.

A fine tribute was paid to Judge Parker from impressions gained of the eminent jurist during a recent visit of Senator Simmons to Esopus.

Taking up State issues, Mr. Simmons justified the Democratic administration for its seeming over-expenditures on the ground that it had been spent in behalf of the old Confederate soldier as a partial payment of a debt of gratitude; for the care and protection of the unfortunate insane; for the purpose of building a school house in every district in fair North Carolina and bringing 83,000 children into the school room, who were hitherto denied this privilege. If the Republicans wanted to attack those expenditures he challenged them to do it.

The State owed the Democratic party a debt of lasting gratitude for four things: Redemption from fusion and negro officeholders; the building of a school house in every district and a four-month school term in each; the adoption of the Constitutional Amendment and the enactment of wholesome temperance laws. Mr. Simmons concluded with a defence of the Watts Law, saying it was Democratic because it recognized majority rule and local self-government; the curtailment of the traffic in country precincts where no police protection was afforded. However, the party was not averse to any wise amendment. It was committed to temperance reform and he gloried in that achievement.

Mr. Simmons spoke for two hours and was given closest attention.

THE FALL OPENINGS

Four Leading Establishments are in Midst of Most Magnificent Displays.

THE LADIES ARE INTERESTED

Polvogt's, Rehder's, Gaylord's and Taylor's Bazaar Will be Popular With Feminine Portion of Population For Another Day.

Four of Wilmington's leading dry goods establishments are now in the midst of their annual Fall and Winter displays of millinery and dress goods. Each of them is proving a magnificent success and what is said of one must not be construed to the prejudice of others, for all are most creditable. Neither is the order in which they are given to be taken as a measure of supremacy, for it would be hard for any one to discriminate in an honest judgment of the displays. The ladies of the city are most cordially invited to visit each of the stores to-day, as the openings continue, according to custom, for the full period of two days.

J. H. Rehder & Company.

It would indeed require an æsthetic mind to pay fitting tribute to the lovely display of Fall millinery and dress goods now being made at the large Department Store of Messrs. J. H. Rehder & Co., near Fourth street bridge. In the narrow margin allotted to a newspaper writer, anything like a complete description is well nigh beyond the range of possibility. It is sufficient to say, however, that the opening this season is well up to the high standard set by that establishment years ago. Every department of that mammoth store is resplendent in an exquisite decoration of green and white and the display of fashionable millinery, the full fruitage of famous French designers ripe for the plucking, all the original and adapted fabrics in dress goods and silks, the latest in clothing, shoes, hats, notions and furnishings are spread out for the inspection of the public in the expansive sales rooms on the first floor.

But it is the millinery department which is the cynosure of all eyes. This year Miss Sarah Gardner, the supervising milliner, has a wealth of new and beautiful creations which she imported from the fashion centres of the North upon the occasion of her recent visit there. And they are displayed, too, to the "Queen's taste" in the store. The decorations were designed and executed by Mr. E. Clayton Moore and a clever corps of assistants from the staff of salesmen and salesladies in the establishment. In one of the windows is a Fall suggestion in the form of a setting of native grasses over which a blue crane extends its long neck with a placard in its beak bearing the words "Fall Opening." The other window of the millinery room contains a few of the latest styles artistically arranged. The interior of the room is a veritable beauty land. The ceiling is overspread with native bamboo, a crescent of autumn leaves, studded with colored incandescents being suspended in the rear and upon which is seated a tiny doll, holding narrow green and white ribbons to a Cupid's heart bearing the words "Welcome 1904" and suspended from the ceiling nearer the door. Other pretty designs and arrangements of lights, the correct placing of stately palms, and the display of trimmings and hats contributed to the general effect in a most pleasing away, especially at night, when the electrics are at their best. The inclination of Dame Fashion this season as reflected in the stock is toward the high crowns and broad brims and the green and brown effects, one of the leading colors being the coque de rouche or burnt orange. Among the leaders in pattern hats are the ever popular Gainsboroughs, the "Envelope" and the "Toque," though there are five hundred others almost as fastidious. The line carried this year is the largest ever bought by the firm. A visit to the store to-day—the last of the opening—is absolutely necessary for the correct formation of any idea of the great display. The display of ready-to-wear hats, children's caps and hats, coat suits, cloaks and furs is also very attractive.

The dress goods department in charge of Mr. Claude E. Moss is vieing with the millinery department in its share of attention. It would take a column to describe all the new and popular fabrics which Mr. Moss has in his well selected stock. The notion line has also many choice offerings, a special display being made of lace and leatherette collars for the ladies.

The dress fabrics for Fall and Winter include broadcloth, ziballines, invisible checks, cravenet cloths and velvets. Voils are also good. The new silks used are peau de cygne, Diana, parisifal, peau de le vant and creps de chine. Taffetas are strong. The leading colors for dress goods and silks are several shades of brown, known as leather shades, bronze green in dark shades and lizzard green for the lighter shades, coque de rusche is the new shade of orange.

Although the weather was not good last night hundreds and hundreds of ladies visited the store and almost as many were there during the day. Owing to the inclement weather the formal evening opening has been postponed until to-night. Hollowbush's Orchestra will play the excellent programme advertised for last night.

Opening at Polvogt's.

The fashionable dry goods emporium of the C. W. Polvogt Co. was the mecca to which hundreds of Wilmington ladies journeyed yesterday to attend the annual Fall opening at that favorite centre of fashion. The approach of Polvogt's openings is always watched with increasing interest from day to day and yesterday the pent-up enthusiasm broke forth in a glorious fruition as one after another, from early morn until dewy eve, the ladies came, saw and were delighted. The store is most attractively decorated, the hand of the artist being manifest on every counter and shelf. The millinery stock includes the most artistic, stylish and elegant model hats known to the Parisian world as well as many original creations by Miss Strasberg, the leading milliner. Miss Strasberg and Miss McIver selected the entire line on the New York markets early in the season, and the splendid taste which they have shown and the selections which were made have been the subject of much admiration on the part of visitors. The firm's endeavor to eclipse all former occasions has been most successful. The new tints are onion, mahogany and Havana browns; all varieties of red, raspberry, cardinal, terracotta, cerise; all tones of green, and also the blue tints of peacock are shown in the line.

The opening will continue from 9:30 A. M. to 6:30 P. M., and Mr. Polvogt extends a most cordial invitation to the ladies of Wilmington to call and see the magnificent exhibition.

At Taylor's Bazaar.

The grand Fall opening of millinery at Taylor's Bazaar, No. 118 Market street, commenced yesterday morning and will continue through to-day. The display being made at this popular establishment was never eclipsed in the history of the store and the ladies are cordially invited to visit the department during the hours to-day. Mrs. Taylor and Miss Hattie Taylor selected the styles in New York this season and their good taste and discriminating judgment in the millinery art is amply reflected in the exhibition. All the latest Parisian creations are shown in the newest styles and tints. A visit to the store will be appreciated.

Display at Gaylord's.

The annual display of Fall and Winter millinery and dress goods at Wilmington's Big Racket Store, on North Front street, is now in progress and will be continued through to-day. Mr. Geo. O. Gaylord, the proprietor, especially invites the ladies to visit the exhibition before it is over, for he is satisfied that in the present season's offerings he has something that will delight them. The opening began yesterday morning and thus far it has been a great success. Every department of the big store is clothed in gala attire for the occasion and the clever salesmen and salesladies are vieing with one another in their attention to the great number of visitors drawn thither by the opening announcement several days ago.

Of course the particular spot of interest for the feminine contingent is the millinery department on the second floor which is of easy access by elevator or stairway. Miss Alma Brown is the accomplished milliner in charge and she has a score of experienced assistants, who have transformed the place into a fairyland. The decorations are in red, green and burnt orange, and are very artistic. Music for the opening is furnished by Mr. Bernard Williamson. The display of fashionable millinery this year is prettier and more complete than ever. Miss Brown spent the month of September in the great fashion marts of the North and she has brought back for the inspection of her friends and customers the prettiest line of pattern hats ever shown at the store. The new "Envelope" and the Gainsborough are among the favorite styles, the new shades being Havana brown, onion, new blues, mahogany, green and white. In trimmings the stock includes fancy feathers of the "pom pom" and "paradise" varieties. The inclination this year is to the high crown and wide brim effects.

But the opening continues to day and a description upon the ordinary printed page would hardly do justice to the display. Anything and everything, from the cheapest to the most fastidious, may be found in the carefully selected stock and to those who are acquainted with the establishment, nothing in addition need be said. In addition to the millinery display there is also a very creditable display of furs and cloaks.

On the first floor of the big store there is a magnificent display in every department, with particular attention to dress goods and notions. The show windows are tastefully dressed, a prominent feature in one of them being some handsome oil paintings by Miss Brown, of Liberty College.

Remember the display continues to-day and don't forget the cordial invitation to every one. The store will be open until 7 o'clock this evening.

Killed a Coon.

William Hall, the well known colored drayman, killed a 13-pound coon which had evidently crossed the river and climbed up a telegraph pole in front of the pickery at the Champion Compress early yesterday morning. The animal was a fine one and the pelt was sold at a good figure. The drayman dislodged the coon by going up on the roof of the pickery and knocking the animal off with a pole.

Gaylord's Furniture Store.

A car load of furniture arrived yesterday for the new furniture store which Mr. Geo. O. Gaylord will open in a few days next south of his mammoth dry goods establishment on North Front street. Mr. Gaylord will carry a large and select line and will have something in the way of prices to interest the public.

"MUSIC AND MIRTH" WITH WEST'S.

Favorite Minstrels Here Monday for Matinee and Night Performance.

"Music and mirth" is the watchword of Manager Ricaby in the programme as presented by the popular Wm. H. West Big Minstrel Jubilee, which will make its appearance in this city Monday at the Academy at matinee and night. This company is now one of the largest and most pretentious organizations of its kind in America, carrying as it does fourteen great singers, six well known comedians, three European novelty acts and twenty skilled musicians. The new scenic equipment this season is said to be far more extravagant than anything ever before presented in minstrelsy, while the costuming is the richest and most gorgeous that money can buy. In the parade suits, in the first part costumes, in the scenery, in the entire stage picture, in fact everywhere is the impression thrown upon the audience of unlimited expenditure and lavish display.

FRUIT LIKELY TO BE LOWER.

New York Sees a Panacea For Fruit Lovers in Winter Market.

Lovers of fruit will smack their lips with satisfaction at the following from the New York Herald of yesterday:

No finer apples have ever been in the metropolitan market than are now offered for sale, and at prices that mean a very small profit to the raisers. Our American crop was estimated at 70,000,000 barrels, and it now seems probable that this figure is too low. The crop will be the largest in history.

Pippins and Duchess apples are selling at from $1.50 to $2 a barrel and Alexanders from $1.75 to $3. The best windfalls can be bought for $1 a barrel, and Malden Blush and similar varieties at an average of $1.75.

Pears are giving an attractive coloring to the market. Seckels are selling at $3 a barrel and Bartletts at $3.25, while the Duchess and Lawrence are a trifle lower.

RECKLESS WORDS ON THE STUMP.

Congressman J. T. Heflin is making a red-hot canvass in the Alabama district which he represented in the last Congress, and in which he is again the Democratic nominee. He roasts his Republican opponent, B. Walker, most unmercifully, and in answering one of his speeches at Tuskegee on Monday, he made these two remarkable statements:

"There they sat, Roosevelt and Booker, and if some Czolgosz or one of his kind had thrown a bomb under the table, no great harm would have been done the country.

"If Booker Washington takes a hand in this thing it will be one time I will ask him to step out. I will ask him to hands off, and you know we have a way of influencing down here."

We see no manner of use for such speeches in the South, and we hope Mr. Heflin was misrepresented as to what he said. No such sentiments can be endorsed in the South and they may do the Democratic party harm at the North.

President Roosevelt's acts are legitimate marks for criticism and surely there is enough of them to invite scorching criticisms, but none calling for declarations like those attributed to Mr. Heflin.

The Hon. Thos. W. Hardwick, the young Georgia Congressman, on Tuesday night addressed the Business Men's Parker Club at Washington, D. C. What he said of Roosevelt was severe but true. In the course of his discourse he discussed President Roosevelt as "the candidate." Mr. Hardwick stated that he did not wish to be understood "as criticising the President as the Chief Magistrate of the United States," but that he felt "at liberty to criticise him as a candidate for public office," and in this connection, he declared that "if Mr. Roosevelt purposely entertained Booker Washington at dinner, he is not fit to be President of the United States while if he did it by mistake he is not a safe man to hold that high office." Mr. Hardwick reviewed the history of suffrage in the District of Columbia, and charged the Republican party with having deprived the citizens of the District of the right of franchise.

Mr. Hardwick brought the Republican chickens home to roost when he flung the suffrage question of the District up to the Republicans. For the same reason that some Southern states have suffrage amendments to their constitutions, Republican congresses adopted the present system of government for the District of Columbia.

THE LAWLESS ROOSEVELT.

The Hon. David B. Hill in discussing the Panama stunt of the Roosevelt administration, said in a speech the other night in Albany:

"The essence of the reproach of President Roosevelt made in the Democratic national platform is that he has as President been 'lawless' in the sense of American law and of international law."

We do remember that Roosevelt aided and abetted the Panamenos to "stand up as one man" against Colombia. The Panamenos are guilty of disorderly conduct and it was lawless to encourage them in putting up their big bluff of a bloodless rebellion. Of course this is the funny side of it to us. We got the canal.

AMONG THE MAGAZINES

The October number of the Cosmopolitan has come to hand. It is a gem both as to contents and illustrations. "The Liquor Problem" is treated editorially, and the topics discussed by the contributors are numerous and full of timely interest and value. One of the most interesting articles is by P. T. McGrath who discusses, "Will Marconi supplant the Cable?" There are, however, many other articles equally entertaining. This magazine is sold at 10 cents a copy at the annual subscription price of $1.00. Address "The Cosmopolitan," Irvington, New York.

Very few copies of the American Monthly Review of Reviews equal the October number. Dr. Shaw, the editor, writes of "The Presidential Campaign" and discusses "Judge Parker as the Country Sees Him," "The Charges of Republican Extravagance," "The President's Letter," "The Pension Order Issue," and "The State Conventions in New York." There follow numerous articles on current questions, including several contributions by Japanese writers. "The Bankers' Convention at New York" is discussed; and another article of present interest is "The Gathering of Geographers in America." The literary features and illustrations all go to make the magazine complete, and full of interest to readers. Price 25 cents per copy. Subscription, $2.50 a year. Address "The Review of Reviews Company, 13 Astor Place, N. Y.

One of the leading magazines [of this country is "The North American Review." The October number is fully up to its high standard, and readers will find in its contents no end of instructive and entertaining reading matter. Dr. Swallow, the Prohibition Candidate for President, writes about, "What the Prohibition Party Stands For," and among the numerous articles are "Czars at Bay," "Conditions in the Congo Free State," "Unity and Safety, in Relation to Public Office," "The Making of Modern Races," How Good City Government May Be Had," "Masculine and Female Occupations," etc. The number will have to be read to be appreciated. Subscription, $5 a year. Single number, 50c. Address, "The North American Review," Franklin Square, New York.

SENATOR LATIMER'S FOREBODINGS.

Senator Latimer, of South Carolina, who has been campaigning up North, has returned to South Carolina and given out a pessimistic interview concerning the Democratic outlook at the North. The Charleston News and Courier thereupon tells him to "Cheer up or Shut up."

While North Senator Latimer advocated government aid to road building, an issue not involved in the campaign at all. Probably the Senator's speeches met with a frost on that account, for many Democrats look on road building by the national government as the rankest paternalism.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—— Japan announces that she can send 1,000,000 men into the field. She will probably need both the men and the yen.—Washington Post.

—— One of the humors of the day is that the only Presidential candidate ever a member of a free trade club is the present "stand pat" candidate.—Elmira Gazette.

—— J. Adam Bede declares that the Republicans have lost New York. We suspected that Chairman Cortelyou was making a mistake when he refused to send Bede on the New York circuit.—Washington Post.

—— The Republican party to-day does not govern New York State. A Republican faction controls party and State alike, and milks them for its own benefit. That faction is working for its own pocket all the time.—New York Sun.

—— General Howard believes that Roosevelt is "the greatest President we have ever had." The General, however, mistakes the situation. Instead of our having the President, the President has us.—Elmira Gazette.

—— An expert statistician figures that there are to-day some 5,000,000 of adult males (that is, one out of every three) in this country who carry life insurance, outside of the fraternal orders and the like. There were, at the end of last year, nearly 19,000,000 policies in force. There are only a little more than twice as many adult males to-day as there forty years ago.

—— Official Republicans say, pending the election, that we are training the Filipinos for self-government, but unofficial Republicans, like Benjamin Idle Wheeler, say that we shall keep their islands permanently, and when we feel like it, or see a chance to make anything out of it, we shall go out and gather in other portions of the earth.—Philadelphia Record.

TO WEAK WOMEN

OF WILMINGTON AND VICINITY.

We Make the Following Proposition.

"There are hundreds of women in this vicinity who are dragging themselves through life in pain and misery, without vitality, strength or health," said Mr. Bellamy. "They get no happiness out of life and are just in a condition to be attacked by almost any disease. They need a vitality-making and strength creating tonic.

"Now, at our expense, we want to ask every such woman to try our cod liver oil preparation, Vinol, which contains in a highly concentrated form all of the medicinal elements of cod liver oil, but no oil or grease. It is delicious to take, creates a healthy appetite, makes pure, rich, red blood and gives strength and vigor to every organ of the body better than any medicine we have ever sold in our store, and when a woman is in this condition it makes life worth living. When we say 'at our expense,' we mean that if the medicine you buy from us and pay for does not benefit you—we will refund every cent of it cheerfully, and thus you try it at our expense."

Miss Mary A. Woodard, of Indianapolis, Ind., writes: "I think Vinol is the finest remedy in the world for a weak, tired, worn-out system. I was just in that condition when I commenced to take Vinol. It gave me new life and energy and after using three bottles I felt like a different woman. I feel well and strong and better than I have for years. I believe Vinol will do much more than is claimed for it."

I can only ask Wilmington women to try Vinol on our guarantee. Robert R. Bellamy, druggist.

— Britain and Spence have purchased the Enterprise Cotton Mills, flouring mill, wool cards and cotton gin at Coleridge, Randolph county, for $17,500. It is assessed for taxation at $40,000, and was sold at auction.

— Hon. Charles L. Abernethy, Democratic candidate for Presidential Elector, and Hon. Thos. E. Owen, Republican candidate for the same position, will have a joint discussion in Mount Olive next Tuesday, October 11th.

— Charlotte News: Next to the election of Judge Parker to the Presidency, the News would like to see the election of William J. Bryan to the Senate, from Nebraska. The American people need him in their business, and don't you forget it.

— Deputy Clerk George L. Tonnoffski, of the United States Court, at Raleigh, has entered suit for $10,000 against Mr. Eugene P. Albea, the well known travelling man of Winston-Salem. The complaint alleges that Mr. Albea libelled him in charging that Mr. Tonoffski defaulted as treasurer of an Odd Fellow's lodge.

— Salisbury Sun: If any man has fallen into the error of believing that Spencer Blackburn has a lead pipe cinch on Wilkes county his wisdom will be increased when he reads that a number of Republicans left the court room at Wilkesboro yesterday when Hezekiah Gudger and Prof. Britt began lauding Spencer.

— Fayetteville Observer: The people of Cumberland county, Democrats, of course, and many Republicans, are going to deliver such a blow to Rooseveltism—i. e., social equality creed—that anybody who happens to run as a Republican this year from township constable up, will not be able to tell what struck them on November 8th next.

— When Train No. 42 the "Shoo-Fly" on the Atlantic Coast Line arrived at Faison's going north it was fired on by some unknown party. The colored porter, Duncan Latta, was struck in the arm and painfully injured. He was carried to the Railroad Hospital at Rocky Mount for treatment. This is the third time the A. C. L. trains have been fired on near Faison's.

— Rockingham Anglo-Saxon: It is estimated that the show carried $10,000 from this place, and they claim to have left $7,500. They have us to the tune of $2,500 and 10,000 days' time and a lot of court costs. We do not see why men want to get drunk just because there is a circus in town. A reward of $25.00 to the one who can tell how many drunks there were in town circus day.

— Mt. Olive Tribune: The dwelling house, barn and stables of Mr. Frank Reaves, a farmer who lives about four miles from here, in Duplin county, were burned last Monday morning at 9 o'clock. It is thought that the fire orliginated from the stove flue in the kitchen. Mr. Reaves lost part of his household and kitchen furniture, and all of the corn he had raised this year, which was stored in the barn.

— Raleigh News and Observer: The Southern newspapers that are trying to explain that President Roosevelt didn't mean what he said about Southern peoples' brutality and coarseness and the anarchistic spirit of the Confederate soldiers, have need for all their ingenuity. And they never quote the exact language of the President when they try to put a better face on it than the language employed will permit.

— Capt. E. M. Pace, who pioneered the tobacco market in Wilson, writes to the Southern Tobacco Journal as follows: "Wilson is the largest loose market in North Carolina, and second largest in the world, big Danville being the first, and that has been a tobacco market ever since Adam was a boy. Wilson was 14 years old, as a tobacco market, September 10, past. Her sales for 1902 were 22,296,077 pounds. Her sales for 1903 were 22,201,771 pounds."

— Raleigh News and Observer: Tom Watson didn't have time to accept the invitation to be the guest of that commercial club in Charlotte. Just suppose Tom had visited the State advocating the election of Mr. Bryan, would he have been so popular with some folks as he is now that he is doing what pleases Republicans? A Populist leader who comes to North Carolina to try to defeat Parker is sure to be mighty popular with folks who call themselves Democrats and vote against Democratic nominees.

— Mt. Olive Tribune: Mrs. Polly Musgrove, who was seriously injured in the cyclone of September 14th, died from the result of her injuries last Monday morning. She was living in a tenement house belonging to Mr. U. L. Martin. The house was demolished by the cyclone and the old lady was caught under some of the falling timber, fearfully mashing her arm and sustaining other injuries. Mrs. Musgrove was about 85 years of age. She had no near relatives, and had been living at the home of Martin since the day of the cyclone.

— The State Literary and Historical Society will hold its annual meeting in Raleigh on the 18th of October, For this meeting a committee has been appointed to submit a list of all books written by North Carolinians within the past year. All citizens of the State who have written a book during this period are asked to send the name of the book to Mr. D. H. Hill, West Raleigh, who is chairman of the committee to prepare the list. After this report has been presented to the society, it will be printed. The committee hopes to make the list as complete as possible, hence it asks the co-operation of those interested. The friends of authors who live outside of the State will confer a favor on the society by sending to the committee the names of books written by non-resident citizens of the State.

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—The cotton market opened at an advance of 1@10 points on higher English cables. Demand was also encouraged by reports of rain in some sections of the belt where it was said likely to damage open cotton. Immediately following the call prices worked off a little but were soon rallied and worked up to a net advance of 9@14 points on covering and bull support with the South sending buying orders through the wire houses. But the advance having now extended to a matter of something over half a cent in the last two days, it was considered that the altered technicial end of the market justified a decline, and some of the larger room traders began to raid the market. After getting it back to about the closing figures of the previous night a rumor that the Pecos river had overflowed and caused damage in Texas brought about another rally to about the high point, but in the later trading there was active liquidation and selling by New Orleans based on reports of weakness in the interior spot markets of the South, caused by an accumulation of stocks, and the market was finally easy at a net decline of eleven to sixteen points. Sales were estimated at 300,000 bales. Receipts of cotton at the ports to-day 46,592 bales against 68,590 last week and 51,611 last year. For the week 450,000 bales against 438,317 last week and 395,416 last year. To-days receipts at New Orleans 8,852 bales against 8,041 last year and at Houston 9,925 bales against 9,453 last year.

FAMILY CARES.

This Information May Be of Value to Many a Parent in Wilmington.

When there is added to the many cares inseperable from the rearing of children that affliction of weakness of the kidneys and auxiliary organs, the mother's lot is far from a happy one. This condition can be quickly changed and absolutely cured by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. When this is known the parent's burden will be lighter and her home happier.

J. T. Ebert, of 515 South 6th street, mattress maker, says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills in my family. My little girl complained of severe pains in the small of her back, and the kidney secretions were dark and full of brickdust sediment. We were very much worried about her and when I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills I went up to R. R. Bellamy's drug store and got a box and gave them to her. Since using them she had improved wonderfully and is a different child. Her kidney secretions cleared up, she does not complain of her back, and in fact Doan's Kidney Pills gave her new life. We are very much pleased with them and you can use my name and welcome."

A RUSE TO SAVE THE FORT

[Original.]

You want to hear how Fort N. was saved from massacre by Indians, do you? Well, I can tell you since I was there.

Fort N. was a blockhouse, a store and a few dwellings. The Apaches came down so suddenly that we had no time to prepare. We divided between the blockhouse and the store. There were several thousand dollars' worth of goods, including provisions, in the store, besides ammunition, which it wasn't advisable to let the Indians have. The building stood about 200 yards from the blockhouse, and a path had been worn between the two. I was in the blockhouse with the eight men and the women and children. There were seven men in the store. This comprised all the people in the place. The division of force was all right, but the division of ammunition was all wrong. That in the fort had been suffered to run low. There was plenty in the store, but no time to move it. You see, a man came galloping in to give warning, and ten minutes later down came the Indians.

It was about noon when the attack began, and by 4 o'clock there wasn't a pound of powder left to us in the blockhouse. We had kept up our spirits till we learned of the deficiency, several of the women doing good service at the loopholes and altogether making it so hot for the red devils that they didn't dare make a rush across the open. But when the ammunition gave out we were seized with a sudden fright. I'll admit that my mind got on the butchery of the women and children that was sure to come, and I couldn't get it off. There was but one thing to do—some one must make a run for the store and a run back with ammunition. Of course there wasn't one chance in ten of his getting through either way, but he might make the out trip even if he had to drag himself in with bullet holes in him and tell them what we needed. Signal? Great Scott! Don't you suppose the Indians would understand a signal? And when they did that would be the end of us.

Well, we had two brothers in the place, the Gordons. They kept the store. Jim Gordon was with us in the blockhouse with the Gordon women and children, and John was at the store. John was the husband and father. Jim was a bachelor. John intrusted Jim with his family while he looked ofter the property. Jim Gordon was a perfect deer at running and had practiced a zigzag motion on purpose to dodge Indians and their fire. He volunteered to try a run for the store. He started just at dark, when a mist was rising from the ground. There was a rainfall of lead poured at him, but he had made half the distance before he fell. The darkness came on, and we knew for certain the Indians would steal up and get poor Jim.

During the night we were at the mercy of the redskins if they had only known it. I made up my mind to try a skulk through to the store, for we felt sure the attack would be renewed at daylight. Soon after midnight I crawled out and got over some twenty yards when I saw the dark forms of Indians keeping watch between the two wings of our little army. I crept to the left to circumvent them and had made a considerable distance when down in a depression in the ground a party of them suddenly lighted a fire, and near by, bound to a tree, I saw poor Jim Gordon. He wasn't dead, but was as white as a corpse. The Indians blocked the way I was going, so I turned, but found them everywhere, and finally, coming to a clump of thick bushes, I lay concealed. There wasn't much chance of my getting through, and I confess the sight of Jim Gordon rather took the starch out of me.

I lay hidden till daylight, and the Indians then began to make preparations for a rush. It was plain they were going to attack the blockhouse, possibly because they had divined from Jim Gordon's attempt that the garrison was in need of something. Just as they were about to start a figure came from the store and walked very slowly toward the Indians, who were mostly located near the tree to which Jim Gordon was secured. One or two shots were fired at the figure without apparent effect. The chief then stopped any more shooting. Perhaps he thought a messenger was coming to bring a surrender. I was wondering at the slow, ghostlike movement of the advancing figure when I noticed a commotion among the Indians. Several of them ran and looked at Jim Gordon, then ran back to stare at the figure, which I could now see was white as ashes in the face. Then one after another the Indians started back, apparently terror stricken, and by the time the spectral figure had come near enough for me to distinguish who it was nearly all of them had fled.

You may be sure I wondered what it was that made them get away so fast. An Indian isn't such a fool as to be duped simply by a man playing ghost. When I saw that the figure was John Gordon it was all explained. I told you that John and Jim Gordon were twins, didn't I? No? Only brothers? Well, they were twins, sure enough, and could scarcely be told apart. The Indians concluded that John was the ghost or double of Jim, and as they are fearfully superstitious they didn't dare raise a rifle against the counterpart.

Jim was unbound and eventually recovered. It turned out that when John saw his brother trying to reach the store he surmised what it was for. Knowing the superstition of the Indians, he resolved as a forlorn hope to personate his brother's ghost. He took a big chance and saved his family and all the rest.

Compare Our Methods

You will realize then why Schlitz beer is pure.

You wash a cooking utensil once. We wash a bottle four times, by machinery, before we fill it.

You use city water. We bore down 1400 feet to rock for ours.

You prepare food in the air of the room. We cool Schlitz beer in plate-glass rooms and filter all the air that touches it.

Then we filter the beer by machinery—filter it through white wood pulp.

Yet your methods are cleanly. Ours are cleanliness carried to extremes.

Then—for fear of a touch of impurity—we sterilize every bottle after it is sealed. We double the necessary cost of our brewing to give you a healthful beverage pure.

Do you wonder that we sell over a million barrels annually? Ask for the brewery bottling.

The Beer That Made Milwaukee Famous.

—The new machinery is now being placed in the mammoth shop building just erected at Spencer by the Southern, though it will take several months to complete the work of setting up and placing same. The pieces attracting the most attention are the electric cranes woich will have sufficient strength to lift an engine weighing 150 tons and carry it to any desired point in the building. The new electric plant being installed by Chief Electrician W. S. Sweet will furnish lights as well as motor power for the entire grounds. About one dozen large arc lamps will be used to illuminate the main building, which is 600 feet long and 159 feet wide.

—The good woman had just returned from church and found her husband dozing in the hammock. "John," she said, "You should have heard the new minister this morning. He has a splendid delivery." "So?" queried the drowsy John, "how many did he strike out during the game?"—Chicago News.

—"I can't imagine how you can dislike work. To me it's real enjoyment," said the father to his lazy son. "Yes, father," was the guileless response, "but I don't want to give myself up wholly to pleasure."—Chicago Journal.

YOUR HAT

May Be a Stylish One, But It Makes Trouble.

A man usually buys a hat that's "in style," but the modern hat for men has lots to answer for.

Baldheads are growing more numerous every day. Hats make excellent breeding places for the parasitic germs which sap the life from the roots of the hair.

When your hair begins to fall out and your scalp is full of Dandruff it is a sure sign that these countless germs are busily at work.

There is but one way to overcome the trouble and kill the germs—that way is to apply Newbro's Herpicide to the scalp—it will kill the germs and healthy hair is sure to result.

FRIDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 7.

SEVERAL DELEGATIONS CALL ON JUDGE PARKER

Report of Canvassers of Doubtful States Hungarians for Parker and Davis—Southern Men Among Callers.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Judge Parker expects to return to Esopus to-morrow. The number of callers at his apartments at the Hotel Seville to-day was the largest during his present visit. In addition to political callers and friends of the candidate, several delegations were received and the reception room was crowded most of the day.

Reports of canvasses of doubtful States are being received at Judge Parker's headquarters. Senator W. A. Clark, of Montana, called to introduce former Governor Samuel Hauser and former Lieutenant Governor Spriggs, of Montana. While they were conferring with Judge Parker a telegram was received announcing that the labor convention of the State had endorsed the Democratic electors. Judge Parker dined to-night with several friends at an uptown cafe.

A delegation from the Hungarian Democratic League of Greater New York called on Judge Parker before he had finished his breakfast. Morris Cuker, the spokesman for the delegation, told Judge Parker the members of the league desired to assure him that the Hungarians in the United States are not going to vote the Republican ticket this year. He said: "There are 50,000 Hungarians in New York and 70 per cent. of them will vote for Parker and Davis.

"We may be warlike by nature, but we are out for constitutional government and would rather have you for president with your hand on the constitution than Roosevelt with his hand on the sword."

Among other callers were Representatives John Wesley Gaines, of Tennessee; Dr. Charles W. P. Brock, Richmond, Va.; Senator Gorman, of Maryland; Colonel John J. Hemphill and Judge Brawley, of South Carolina; Representative George F. Burgess, of Texas, and Representative Thomas W. Hardwick, of Georgia.

JUDGE PARKER'S DECISION.

He Will Not Go Upon The Stump—Such Speeches as He Will Make Will Be Delivered at Rosemount.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Chairman Taggart, at Democratic national headquarters gave out the following statement to-day:

"Shortly after his nomination Judge Parker set about the consideration of his course of action toward the conduct of the campaign. He consulted many men of large experience in such matters and made an examination of the course of every successful candidate. That done, he decided, as it was necessary for him to do, what his course should be and he caused that decision to be made generally known. It was to the effect that he would not go on the stump; that such speeches as he should deem it desirable to make could be made at Rosemount, following in that respect the McKinley precedent of 1896.

"That decision made and announced, he proceeded to work along the lines he had marked out for himself. He believed then—as he believes now—that he decided rightly and no amount of entreating would budge him. His record during all his life proves that clamor will not move him one iota. The incident is closed and those in charge of the campaign fully approve of the determination of Judge Parker."

Judge Parker has been importuned to speak in various States and to-day's announcement is designed to prevent further similar requests.

Representative of Egyptian Government Studying Conditions in America.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Abel Hamid Abaza, a representative of the Egyptian government who has charge of the Khedive's exhibit at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, is in Washington making a special investigation of the organization and work of the Department of Agriculture and other officers. By direction of his government he recently has made an extended trip through the country studying agricultural conditions with special reference to the production of cotton. The officers of the bureau of plant industry in the Department of Agriculture are furnishing him all available information as to cotton production and diseases. Mr. Abaza has expressed his intention of immigrating here and conducting agricultural operations on an extensive scale in the South.

COTTON FOR MANCHESTER.

Arrangements Made to Bring Cargoes Direct from New Orleans.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—Manchester's fight for a diversion of a portion of Liverpool's cotton trade from America has resulted, according to statements published to-day, in an arrangement with the Leyland line and the Manchester liners (limited) of Manchester, whereby the two companies will combine for the purpose of carrying cotton cargoes direct from New Orleans to Manchester. The Leyland line steamer "Cuban," sailing from New Orleans about the middle of October, will, it is added, inaugurate the new departure and thereafter the two companies will make alternate fortnightly sailings.

GREAT BATTLE MAY OCCUR AT MUKDEN

Unusual Activity There Gives Rise to Belief That Serious Engagement is Near.

THE PORT ARTHUR SEA FIGHT

No Confirmation of Reported Engagement Jewish Revolutionary Band in Russia—Japanese are Preparing for a Long War,

By Cable to the Morning Star.

The significance of a Mukden dispatch noting an unusual activity in that place is the subject of much speculation at St. Petersburg. The theory that it indicates the purpose of General Kuropatkin to evacuate the town is not generally accepted, military officers there surmising that the condition noted is in connection with a movement to check Japanese flanking. In Russian official circles credence is given to the rumor that Admiral Wiren left Port Arthur with his squadron, the confusion resulting from a severe storm on Tuesday being regarded as having made such a dash possible. Time-expired members of the Guards regiments in St. Petersburg and vicinity have been ordered to remain with the colors. There are indications that the Russian warships in the Baltic will soon be dispatched to the Far East.

Running the Blockade.

TOKIO, Oct. 6, 10 A. M.—The Port Arthur blockading fleet has captured a junk laden with provisions. The junk was endeavoring to enter the harbor. The statements of the crew and evidence found aboard the junk indicate the existence of a fleet of eighty junks organized to run the blockade from the vicinity of Tsingsau. Despite the vigilance of the blockading fleet many junks reach the Russian lines at a number of landing places on the lower end of the peninsula. The junks enter at night, the Russian guns and mine fields giving them an advantage over the blockading fleet. While it is suspected that ammunition is being smuggled in, none has yet been found in the hundreds of junks that have been overhauled and searched.

Situation at Mukden.

MUKDEN, October 6, 5:30 P. M.—Something unusual is in the wind. A great bustle is now noticeable. The streets are thronged with hurrying crowds and innumerable carts and pack mules.

The main force of both armies remains quiet and the scouts are active. On Tuesday a Cossack detachment had a short but sharp brush with some Japanese dragoons near the Yental mines. The Japanese lost four men killed and had two captured. They then fled.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 6.—General Sakharoff reports that all was quiet October 4th with the exception of the brush on that day between a Cossack detachment and some Japanese dragoons near the Yental mines and a minor affair at Hunlipu, where, after being driven in by the Japanese, the Russian outpost was reinforced and caused the Japanese to fall back after sharp fighting to the station at Tadousampou. The Japanese sustained considerable losses. Those of the Russians are not stated.

Preparing For a Long War.

TOKIO, Oct. 6.—In addressing the members of the United Clearing House of Tokio to-day, Count Okums, the leader of the Progressive party, warned the people to prepare for a long war, the date of the termination of which it was now impossible to foretell. He predicted that the cost to Japan for a two years war, including the loans which had been already placed and the expenses consequent upon the war at its termination, would total one billion dollars, which would make the per cap ita share amount to $30.

Count Okuma said that corruption appeared to pervade the military, political and financial departments of the Russian government, and that this corruption had almost reached a climax which threatened a revolution. It was even reported that Lieutenant General Stoessel, now defending Port Arthur and upon whose shoulders rested the responsibility for the loss of a large share of Russian prestige in East Asia, was guilty of dissipation during the siege. The speaker declared that the weakness of the Russians gave the Japanese many victories.

Despite her weaknesses Count Okuma said Russia possessed immense resources and had tremendous advantages in the size of her population and the greatness of her wealth, and it would be necessary for the Japanese to make heavy sacrifices in order to attain success. He predicted that the war would cost Russia from one and a half billion to two billion dollars and said it would be impossible to raise loans or to increase the taxes in Russia because the limit had been reached.

The count predicted that it would be necessary for the Japanese government to borrow $350,000,000 next year and added that if $75,000,000 were secured abroad the country must face a depreciation in the value of its securities.

Count Okuma urged the nation to carefully husband its strength and resources and expressed the fullest confidence in the ultimate victory of Japanese arms.

No Confirmation of Sea Fight.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 6, 7 P. M.—The admiralty here has not received any confirmation of the sea fight reported by a London news agency last night, to have occurred yesterday off Port Arthur.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 7, 2:20 A. M.—While the admiralty claims to have no knowledge of the departure of the Port Arthur squadron, it is inferrable from the way in which the report that such an event had transpired has been received, that definite confirmation would not create surprise.

The Associated Press is informed that no direct orders have been sent to Admiral Wiren to break through the blockading fleet, but it is tacitly admitted that the admiral has discretionary powers to leave Port Arthur should the situation demand or condition be propitious. In naval circles it is pointed out that Wednesday morning the conditions might have been favorable for a sortie. Heavy storms raged on Tuesday, and doubtless compelled the blockading vessels, and particularly the torpedo boats, to seek shelter, thus leaving the way clear for a dash to Vladivostok. Some naval officers, however, are inclined to think the firing that was heard at Che Foo may only have been directed at blockade runners.

Jewish Revolutionists.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 6.—Reports received at the ministry of the interior indicate that the Jewish revolutionary band are displaying renewed activity in the dissemination of pamphlets urging their coreligionists not to rely on the promises of the government and asserting that the army is in revolution.

Within the past fortnight many of these pamphlets have been seized at Kishineff, Sauvalsky, Gomel, Odessa and Vilna and arrests have been made at each of these places. The pamphlets circulated at Odessa urged an anti-war demonstration on the occasion of the Emperor's recent visit to that city, but according to the reports received no disturbance occurred.

British Vessel Held Up.

CHE FOO, Oct. 6, 3 P. M.—The British steamer Chenan, travelling from Taku to Che Foo, not hearing the usual blank shots, was hove to by a Japanese cruiser, which fired two shots across her bow last night. After the steamer's cargo was examined she was allowed to proceed.

St. Petersburg Advices.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 7, 4:10 A. M.—The war commission sat until an unusually late hour to-night, but adjourned without issuing additional news from the front.

Expert opinion is divided as to whether a serious engagement is likely to occur at Mukden, but the dispatch from that city reporting an unusual activity there gives rise to much speculation. It is impossible to say whether this condition presages the evacuation of Mukden, but in any case it is evident that something of unusual interest is impending. Some even are bold enough to take it that General Kuropatkin is preparing to assume the offensive; but in view of the facts that most reliable advices credit him with only about six division at Mukden this is exceedingly improbable.

It is thought more likely that the commotion had to do with one or other of the Japanese flanking columns, which the Russian Commander may have been preparing to check.

The activity along the outposts is confirming the general belief that the bulk of General Kuropatkin's army is at Tie Pass. A special dispatch from Mukden says preparations for winter quarters are being made, adding that semi-subterranean huts are being constructed for the men stationed about the city. These are described as being warm and comfortable. The same report says that the Japanese are suffering from privations, cold and hunger.

A Che Foo special declares the Japanese squadron must have been damaged during the great storm which has been raging in the Yellow Sea.

DAUGHTERS OF CONFEDERACY

Discussion Regarding Use of the Term "Civil War"—A Memorial Service Held for Deceased Members.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 6.—Considerable discussion was caused at to-day's session of the convention of the Daughters of the Confederacy, regarding the use of the term "Civil War." The words were used in connection with a resolution, introduced by Mrs. Livingston R. Schuyler, of New York, providing for a scholarship in Columbia University and the appropriation to a cash prize for the best essay on the war.

Mrs. N. V. Randolph, of Richmond, led the discussion in opposition of the term "civil war" and suggested that a more felicitous name would be "war of the States."

The resolution, as finally adopted, provides for the scholarship and a prize of $100 for the best essay on the "South's Part in the War of the States." The judges to act on the essays are to be selected by the ladies of the South.

Previous to the business session a memorial service was held for Miss Winnie Davis, Mrs. Margaret McClure and other members of the organization who have died. A special ceremony was also held in memory of the late Senator George Graham Vest, of Missouri.

AT PENSACOLA, FLA.

Boiler at Ice Works Exploded—Five Persons Were Seriously Injured.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

PENSACOLA, FLA., Oct. 6.—By the explosion of a boiler at the Stratton ice works to-night, five persons were injured seriously, and it is believed that several employes are dead and buried beneath the debris of the wrecked building. One of the large boilers exploded at 9 o'clock, wrecking the east end of the building, hurling the debris more than three blocks in various directions and slightly injuring a number of persons. The building took fire but the blaze was extinguished.

VOLCANIC ERUPTION.

Renewed Activity of Mont Pelee on the Island of Martinique.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

KINGSTOWN, ST. VINCENT, Oct. 6.—The captain of the British steamer Sibun, which arrived here to-day, reports that when the steamer passed the island of Martinique on September 30th Mount Pelee was in full eruption. The spectacle was witnessed by those on board the Sibun at 2 o'clock in the morning of the day mentioned, the volcano emitting stupendous black clouds and balls of fire. This accounts for the dust clouds reported to have been seen throughout the Windward Islands.

OLD SPANISH FORT.

One of the Oldest and Most Picturesque Ruins in the United States.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—General Barrick, commanding the department of the gulf, has recommended to the War Department that Fort Marion, the old Spanish fortress at St. Augustine, Fla., one of the oldest and most picturesque ruins in the United States, be preserved. The fortress was begun by the Spaniards in 1565 and completed in 1756 under the name of "Castle of St. Mark." The general says that while the old fort serves no useful purpose it is attractive as a relic.

WARM WIRELETS

George Washington Murray, the colored former representative of a South Carolina district in Congress, has been appointed fourth class postmaster at Huger, a village in Berkely county, South Carolina.

British steamer Hestia, while outward bound from Hamburg for Norfolk, collided with the Norwegian bark Signal. The Hestia had a number of plates above the water line stove and the Signal had her bowsprit carried away.

The full honors due a cabinet officer will be paid to the late Postmaster General Payne, arrangements having been completed for the official funeral to be held at 11 o'clock this morning at St. John's Episcopal church in Washington, D. C.

Rear Admiral Wise, commander in-chief of the Atlantic training squadron, has recommended that the squadron spend the greater part of the Winter in Pensacola harbor and that vicinity. Officials are disposed to favor the recommendation.

CONCLAVE OF THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Address by Archbishop of Canterbury, Delivering Message to the American Body.

IN THE HOUSE OF DEPUTIES.

Resolutions Regarding the Re-marriage of Divorced Persons—No Change to Be Made in Name Of the Church Work Among Negroes.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

BOSTON, MASS., Oct. 6.—The Archbishop of Canterbury, speaking before a joint session of the House of Bishops and House of Deputies of the Episcopal Church, at Emmanuel Church today, delivered a message to the American body in which he urged that the church take steps to guard the religious life of the home. The archbishop's address was forcibly delivered and easily heard in all parts of the edifice. The archbishop said in part:

"We can thank God for strong material progress, for an often high note of moral earnestness, and—here in America at least—for an eager output of intellectual force. And we are prone to be pleased and even satisfied. But it would be vain to ignore the warning voices which tell us—on either side of the sea—of a certain decadence in the definitely religious life of the ordinary home—a falling off, that is, in the very force which gave it distinctive inspiration and its distinctive power to so much of our grand sire's life. If that be true, and in spite of all explanatory qualifications nobody will I think say it is wholly false—it surely behooves every gathering of churchmen to consider well what they can do to safeguard the men and women, and above all, the children of America and of England from a peril whose gravity it is impossible to over-estimate, because it affects the very foundation of our Christian life."

At to-day's session of the House of Deputies several resolutions to make more stringent the canon on the remarriage of divorced persons were presented. One resolution was aimed to prohibit the re-marriage of a divorced person during the life of the former partner. The whole question will come up later.

After reporting against change in the legal name of the church at this time, the committee appointed at the last convention to consider the matter was discharged. A member of the committee, Rev. B. Talbot Rogers, of Fon du Lac, Wis., attempted to have a resolution drawn up by the minority members of the committee which dropped the words "Protestant Episcopal" from the title page of the prayer book placed on the calendar, but it was referred to the committee on prayer book and will be discussed later.

An attempt was made by I. Cameron Buxton, of Winston, N. C., to present a resolution deploring the action of Bishop Potter of New York in participating at the opening of the subway tavern in New York city, but the resolution was declared out of order.

General J. H. Stotsenburg, of Indianapolis, introduced a resolution condemning lynching. A number of the Southern delegates voted to table the resolve, but eventually it was referred to a special committee.

A memorial was presented by the Diocese of North Carolina in the interest of work among the negroes.

Dr. J. Houston Eccleston, of Baltimore, on behalf of the commission appointed to confer with the various religious bodies regarding conformity as to the marriage of divorced persons, submitted a report. The house voted to continue the commission in office. The report says it may be doubted whether uniformity of divorce legislation can be brought about, but that success will largely depend on whether the churches shall agree on a uniform canon to apply to their church members and clergy.

FOR THE CAMPAIGN FUND.

Appeal for Contributions Issued by the Treasurer of the Democratic National Committee to Good Citizens.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—George Foster Peabody, treasurer of the Democratic National Committee, to-day issued an appeal for contributions for the campaign fund. The appeal says:

"There are about fourteen million legal voters in this country and to intelligently present the issues of the campaign and the records of the candidates to this vast electorate requires a large sum of money.

"The Democratic party has no industrial favorites from whom, either by promises or by threats, it can draw campaign subscriptions; but must rely for necessary funds upon patriotic citizens who believe in a government of law under the constitution honestly and economically administered. From all such citizens we request such contributions as they are able and willing to make, for which prompt acknowledgement will be sent."

FALL RIVER STRIKE.

No Nearer Settlement Than When It Was Declared 12 Weeks Ago,

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

FALL RIVER, MASS., Oct. 6.—The conference arranged by local business men, between the secretaries of five labor unions, representing the 26,000 striking textile workers here, and a committee from the cotton mill manufacturers who signed the wage reduction agreement, was held to-day and came to naught. Neither party to the controversy would concede a single point, and at the conclusion of the conference the strike appeared to be no nearer a settlement than when it was declared nearly twelve weeks ago. No understanding was reached as to a future conference.

"THE MARRIAGE OF KITTY."

Charming Little Bettina Gerard and Max Figman Here To-morrow Night.

The charming little actress and vocalist, Bettina Gerard, and the favorite light comedian, Max Figman, will be seen as the Academy to-morrow night in the brilliantly successful comedy, "The Marriage of Kitty," the most emphatic success in its line in New York last season. Miss Gerard will be remembered as the prima donna soprano of many of the biggest comic opera productions which have achieved success during the past ten seasons, and Mr. Figman from his connection as leading man with some of the most prominent New York successes of recent date. The supporting company has been equally carefully chosen by Manager Jules Murry, under whose direction "The Marriage of Kitty" is touring the country this season. Mr. Murry has also given it an exquisite scenic setting, the precise counterpart of that used during its successful New York run.

Seats will be on sale at Plummer's this morning.

The Road to Clothing

Satisfaction Leads to

SOLKY'S STORE.

We Have the Largest Stock of Boys' Suits, Overcoats and Knee Pants in this City,

And if you wish to know how to dress your boys correctly for this autumn and winter season and at the same time economically, we cordially invite you to visit our store and inspect the new season's Suits and Top Coats which we have gathered from the best manufacturers in the country. We have confined our purchases to two houses, but selected the best and the results certainly surpass every previous effort. It is not alone the modern prices that count with us, but the great values which we offer at each price and the genuine goodness in every fibre and thread, and the same rule applies to our Hats and Haberdashery.

We are proud of the offerings we're able to make at each price.

Boys' Clothing.

The boy will use his clothes hard if he is healthy and it is a good sign. It is "up to you" therefore to provide the kind that "will stand the racket." If you buy from us we guarantee that they will do so and our prices will always save you money.

SUITS, from.....$1.50 to $7.50
OVERCOATS, from.....3.00 to 7.50
KNEE PANTS, from.....50c to 1.50
HATS AND CAPS—ALL KINDS.

Men's Clothing.

Men's Top Coats $12.00 to $20. Men's Fall Suits $7.50 to $22.50. There are two collections, however, which we wish you to see particularly, and which will exemplify every phase of the new season's fashions in fabric and design, and they are the Suits and Top Coats which we have marked $12.50 to $16.50. You would not get the same quality and style made to measure for less than $22.00 to $25.00 and even then you will not be sure of the fit and satisfaction as you are here.

Our display of Autumn Hats and Haberdashery is complete with the finest the market affords, and on every purchase in either department, we guarantee a direct saving of money for you.
